

Natural Lakes Owners Advancement Association (NLOAA) Website Privacy Statement

The following are the privacy practices for www.naturallakes.net, the official website for the Natural Lakes Owners Advancement Association (NLOAA). These privacy practices apply solely to the interaction with and the information collected by this website.

Registration

In order to use this website, a user must first complete the registration form. During registration a user is required to give certain information (such as name and email address). This information is used to create your user id to access the website.

Registration is limited to current NLOAA Members and Co-Owners. NLOAA reserves the right to deny a registration or remove a website user at its discretion.

Cookies

We use "cookies" on this site. A cookie is a piece of data stored on a site visitor's hard drive to help us improve your access to our site. Usage of a cookie is in no way linked to any personally identifiable information on our site.

Links

This website contains links to other sites. Please be aware that we are not responsible for the content or privacy practices of such other sites. We encourage our users to be aware when they leave our site and to read the privacy statements of any other site that collects personally identifiable information.

Information Collection, Use, and Sharing

NLOAA is the sole owner of the information collected and stored on these sites. We only have access to information that you voluntarily give us via email, your entry on the websites, or other direct contact from you. We will not sell or rent this information to anyone.

NLOAA will use your information to conduct the business of the Association, provide limited access to all Members or Co-Owners (as specified below), or, in the case of a medical emergency or natural disaster, provide your emergency contact information to first responders or medical personnel.

Unless you ask us not to, we may contact you via email for notifications of NLOAA business, or changes to this privacy policy.

Your Access to and Control Over Information

You have direct control over the information NLOAA keeps as follows:

- You may opt out of email notifications at any time by updating your account.
- You may have your phone numbers and/or email address unlisted in the Member Directory by updating your account.

- You can see what data NLOAA keeps about you by viewing your account summary (My Account).
- You may directly change your own personal and contact information by updating your account.

For other changes to your information not available through website features, you may contact NLOAA using the Contact Us button that appears on all web pages, or via USPS at PO Box 229, Boulder Junction, WI 54512.

Security

We take precautions to protect your information. When you submit sensitive information via the website, your information is protected both online and offline.

Wherever we collect your information it is encrypted and transmitted to us in a secure way. You can verify this by looking for a lock icon in the address bar and looking for "https" at the beginning of the address of the Web page.

While we use encryption to protect sensitive information transmitted online, we also protect your stored information. Only designated NLOAA administrators who need the information to perform a specific job (for example, purchase or sale of property) are granted access to personally identifiable information. All information on the website is stored in the cloud infrastructure managed by our website and hosting provider, Wix. You may review their security practices on their website, www.wix.com.

If you feel that we are not abiding by this privacy policy, you should contact us immediately via email at admin@naturallakes.net.
